Miss Lonelyhearts is a novella by Nathanael West. He began writing it early in 1930 and completed the manuscript in November of 1932. Published in 1933, it is an Expressionist black comedy set in New York City during the Great Depression.

~~Miss Lonelyhearts - Wikipedia~~

Published in 1933 during the "Great Depression", Miss Lonelyhearts is a dark comedy making light of readers problems. The unnamed narrator and writer of the column is a man. The newspaper considered the advice column a joke, and so did the writer at first. He sums it up best in a conversation with a lady friend, and I'm paraphrasing here.

~~Miss Lonelyhearts by Nathanael West - Goodreads~~

Miss Lonelyhearts is, in fact, a man - an unnamed male newspaper columnist who is writing an advice column for desperate people. His job seems to cause much hilarity in the office, but he took it hoping it would lead to better things.

~~Miss Lonelyhearts: Study Guide | SparkNotes~~

Nathanael West's novel Miss Lonelyhearts (1933) follows a jaded newspaper reporter who runs the lonely hearts' column and finds himself tormented by the painful letters he receives. One of West's most popular novels, the book received overwhelmingly positive reviews. Critics praise it for its blend of expressionism, distortion, and humor.

~~Miss Lonelyhearts Summary | SuperSummary~~

Miss Lonelyhearts is a product of social and literary currents of both the 1920s and the 1930s. From the thirties, West brought the scorn of artists for a commercialized culture which followed the gods of advertising slogans and adapted churchly religion to material values.

~~About Miss Lonelyhearts — CliffsNotes~~

Miss Lonelyhearts A man works at a New York newspaper as an advice columnist to despairing readers, writing under the name "Miss Lonelyhearts." His editor is a cynical older man named Shrike who mockingly compares Miss Lonelyhearts to Jesus Christ. Miss Lonelyhearts decides he no longer finds the thirty letters he receives each day amusing.
